QOL TECHNOLOGIES'
ELECTRONIC VERSIONS

There are two types of electronic versions of QOL Tech's questionnaires that you may use:

➢ On a validated electronic device
All authorised electronic versions of QOL Tech's questionnaires have been validated by comparing them to the original paper versions. The purpose of these validation studies is to provide evidence that the new electronic versions give data that is concordant with the original validated paper version. Please contact us for more details on the permission and process of validating a new device.

➢ Interactive web-based versions (Web service or user log-in access)
The only web-based electronic versions of QOL Tech's questionnaires are the ones available through the official website and supplied by QOL Tech. This is to ensure that every questionnaire in every language is accurate, gives valid data and you can have confidence that you are using an authorised and tested instrument. All languages have been checked by Mapi Language Services.
